

NATHAN E. HAWLEY
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR FOR AMMUNITION/DEPUTY TO THE COMMANDER
JOINT MUNITIONS COMMAND

Mr. Nathan E. Hawley currently serves as the acting Executive Director for Ammunition and the Deputy to the Commander for the Joint Munitions Command.

JMC provides the joint forces with ready, reliable, lethal munitions at the speed of war, sustaining global readiness.

Hawley is responsible for the command's mission to produce, distribute, store, and demilitarize ammunition for joint services and coalition partners to sustain worldwide readiness.

In 2004, Hawley began his federal career as a Program Manager, Computer Scientist and Supply System Analyst at the Tank-Automotive and Armaments Command.

Hawley's previous assignments at JMC include Director for the Munitions and Logistics Readiness Center, Deputy to the Munitions Logistics Readiness Center, interim Deputy Commander and Executive Director of Ammunition, Director of Supply Planning, Chief of Logistics Planning, and Chief of Logistics Integration.

In support of the Army Materiel Command's commanding general, Hawley also served on the Organic Industrial Base Modernization Task Force responsible for developing a 15-year modernization plan for the Army 23 Organic Industrial Base Depots, Plants and Arsenal.

Hawley is a native of Peoria, Illinois, and a graduate of St. Ambrose University, Davenport, Iowa, with a Bachelor of Science in computer science and a Master of Business Administration.

